Old Army Stew To Be Served for-First Meal in Camp at Fort Myer.

Regular, old-fashioned army "slumgullion" will be the chief item on the bill of fare for the District militia's first meal in the field at Fort Myer. This meal will be served at 6 o'clock tonight. Major John C. Whitaker, commissary general of the militia, said this afternoon provision had been made to ration 2,500 men in the concentration camp. He said the number might run more or less than 2,500, but that was the figure he had estimated and the number of men for whom he would draw rations.

"Slumgullion" is soldier slang fer beef stew, and it will be served by all the cooks in the District militia's concentration camp this evening.
Major Whitaker drew 3,000 pounds of beef from the subsistence storehouse at Fort Myer this morning for distribution to the cooks. The beef was issued to Major Whitaker in quar-

Major Whitaker and his assistants have a reputation among the guardsmen who have attended annual encampments for providing all the luxuries the market and the season provide. These are sold at practically cost price and are always purchased in large quantities to garnish off the army bill of fare.

Before leaving the L street and First street armories this afternoon all guardsmen were served liberally with sandwiches and coffee. The militialmen, who had been confined to their armories since early mornine, welcomed the music of the mess call and "fell to" with vim, vigor and enthusiasm after getting their sandwiches and tincupfuls of coffee.

Too Expensive.

A wealth of hair,
My lady fair
Adds to her charms extensive,
It shows up well,
But I can tell
That such stuff is expensive.

She has a maid

To comb and tie it for her,
But that fine hair
Is my despair,
I couldn't buy it for her.
